INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM.

It is to be hoped that the State Senate will pass the initiative and referendum before adjournment. It is possible that a body supposed to represent the people will kill a measure that received nine out of every ten votes cast on the proposition at the last election? Or does the State Senate of Nevada wish to emulate the Senate of the United States—a body that has no more concern for the rights and wishes of the common people than a locomotive has for a yellow dog.—Reno Journal.

The Appeal concurs with the Journal in this matter. The people spoke so decisively on this important question that no party can well afford to ignore it. The Republican House have passed it because the Republican party saw the handwriting on the wall and interpreted it. The Democratic party ought to be able to interpret it just as readily, and the important fact must never be lost sight of that it is part of the party platform.

THE TRANSCRIPT BILL.

In another column is a communication from one of the leading attorneys in the State on the transcript bill introduced by Small of Churchill. When reached the Senate it only received one vote as the word went round that it was some dreadful printers steal.

Mr. Chantz writes a communication which will possibly lift the facts regarding this bill into a better light. It is too late to recall the vote by which the bill was snowed under, but the letter is printed all the same. The Appeal believes if the matter had been properly investigated by the Senate it would have reached a different conclusion.

It may be interesting to know that the bill was drawn to meet the rules of the Supreme Court, and if they will look at the Supreme Court rules they will so discover.

The Supreme Court rules were drawn with a view of having the transcripts on appeal printed that the business of the Court might be expedited. As it is now the calendars of the court are choked because under the present law the original papers which come up only enable one justice at a time to read them and the other two have to wait.

Mr. Chantz has pointed out how shrewd lawyers can take advantage of not having a full printed record before the court.

As the state grows the lawyers themselves will be clamoring for just such a bill. As it is now Nevada is the only state in the Union that does not have such a law on the statute books.

The printers, however, should not blame the Senate for turning the bill down. It was simply not given sufficient light on the subject.

Will Make a Clean Sweep.

Mr. Wright, of the firm of Grey, Reid and Wright, is in Carson and has ordered a clean sweep of the S. E. Cohen stock. It will be cut loose regardless of price and the shelves cleaned of every vestige of it in order to make room for new spring stock ordered by him.

It will be sold at almost any old price and the woman who gets there early will get the best bargains. It is simply a case of first come first served.

The sales of this firm have already convinced the public that they are "making good" all along the line. It was supposed that their first advertised sales were simply to get a crowd there, but the crowd that went into the store discovered that they got dealt with according to the advertised program. There is one thing already established in Carson that the firm keeps absolute faith with the public. Thousands of dollars that used to go to purchase goods abroad is being spent right here in town.

Keep your eye on that ad for it will pay you to watch it close.

Ladies' Endeavor Meeting Postponed.

The ladies of the Christian Endeavor Society have postponed their meeting that was to take place today at the residence of Mrs. W. U. Mackey, on account of the recent and crushing bereavement of their fellow-member, Mrs. Rickey, to whom their deepest sympathy is extended in the hour of her affliction.
